2. Description of the European Property 5% Income Bond 3

The European Property 5% Income Bond 3 (the Bond) is an innovative new Investment Solution designed for investors who wish to invest in a Structured Retail Product that offers attractive potential investment returns linked to a Eurozone Real Estate Index. The Bond is suitable as part of the process of constructing a genuinely diversified investment portfolio.

A copy of the Base Prospectus is available from your Financial Broker on request.

This Bond is in the form of Certificates involving derivatives and is therefore a complex product. 2.1 Investment Rationale

The investment rationale for investing in the Bond and in this Index can be summarised as follows:-

- Investing in Real Estate as a Long Term Investment
- Investing in a Real Estate Index
- Investing in the EuroStoxx Real Estate Index (SX86E Index)
- The Potential Investment Return: Investors will receive a Fixed Annual Return of 5% paid out at the end of each year regardless to the investment performance of the Index.

Why invest in Real Estate?

The benefits of investing in real estate are numerous. With property assets, investors can enjoy predictable cash flow, excellent returns, tax advantages, and diversification.

- Real estate investors can make gains through rental income, appreciation, and profits generated by business activities that depend on the property
- The benefits of investing in real estate include passive income, stable cash flow, tax advantages, diversification, and sometimes leverage
- Real estate investment trusts (REITs) or listed property companies offer a way to invest in real estate without having to own, operate, or finance properties

Real estate returns vary, depending on factors such as location, asset class, and management but many investors expect returns comparable with the equity market.

Inflation Hedge

The inflation-hedging capability of real estate stems from the positive relationship between GDP growth and the demand for real estate. As economies expand, the demand for real estate drives rents higher. This, in turn, translates into higher capital values. Therefore, real estate tends to maintain the buying power of capital by passing some of the inflationary pressure on to tenants and by incorporating some of the inflationary pressure in the form of capital appreciation.

Real Estate Drawback

In addition to the benefits of investing in real estate, there are drawbacks. One of the main ones is the lack of liquidity (or the relative difficulty in converting an asset into cash and cash into an asset). Unlike equities or bonds, which can be transacted in seconds, a real estate transaction can take months or longer to close.

Investing in a Real Estate Index

Although investing in Real Estate or Property involves a degree of illiquidity and investment risk and there will be volatile periods along the way, in the long term, Property tends perform favourably relative to other assets like bonds and cash etc. By adopting a medium term approach, Property investors can mitigate the risks and short term volatility associated with Property investment while benefiting from the long term capital growth potential or investment income that Property investments can provide.

Property also increases the diversification of well structured portfolios invested in other asset classes such as cash, equities, bonds etc.

Indices provide a broad representative portfolio of investments in multiple companies or shares. Indexes are often used as benchmarks to gauge the movement and performance of market segments or geographic regions . Investors generally use indexes as a basis for diverse or passive investing.

The EuroStoxx Real Estate Index is an Index of Eurozone Property company shares.

The EuroStoxx Real Estate Index

The Stoxx Supersector indices track supersectors of the relevant benchmark index. There are 20 supersectors according to the Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB). Companies are categorised according to their primary source of revenue. The following supersectors are available: Technology, Telecommunications, Health Care, Banks, Financial Services, Insurance, Real Estate, Automobiles and Parts, Consumer Products and Services, Media, Retail, Travel and Leisure, Food, Beverage and Tobacco, Personal Care, Drug and Grocery Stores, Construction and Materials, Industrial Goods and Services, Basic Resources, Chemicals, Energy, Utilities.

2.6 Summary Risk Indicator

The Summary Risk Indicator (SRI) is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because BNP Paribas is not able to pay the Investor. The risk indicator assumes the product is held until maturity.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class:

The actual risk can vary significantly if the Investor encashes prior to maturity. Investors may not be able to sell this product easily or may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much the Investor gets back.

The Summary Risk Indicator of 4 rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level and poor market conditions are unlikely to impact BNP Paribas' capacity to pay you.

Investors will receive payments in the product's currency, which may be different from Investor's domestic currency. In this case, be aware of currency risk. The final return Investors will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

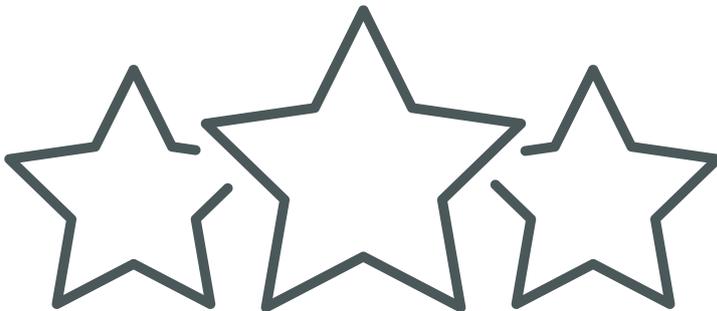

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

If BNP Paribas is not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

For detailed information about all risks please refer to the Key Information Document (KID) and the risk sections of the Base Prospectus as specified in the section 'Other relevant information' below.

Warning: If you invest in this Bond you may lose some or all of the money you invest.
